Subject: New team member coming.

Dear all employees,

As you know, we are happy to announce that a new employee will join our company next month.

He is Borja Canella. He will be working as a Human resources worker with us.

He has 2 years of experience in this sector and he used to work in different companies helping with staff administration and recruitment. He will be the responsible for support the human resources tasks and help with the management of employee files.

We are looking forward to work with him. We wish him much success in the company. We're so happy to have him joining the company.

My best regards,

HHRR Department
